PAULINE ROCHAS “SCENTSCAPADE”

– Bespoke & Collaborations

BESPOKE SCENT INSTALLATIONS

Pauline Rochas' attitude to scent is all-encompassing. She has worked on numerous bespoke projects, from spas and leading hotels of the world to private homes. Pauline creates ambiances that pay homage to each space. The history and décor of a hotel suite are enhanced; a massage room becomes a sanctuary of healing; a home becomes deeply personalized.

There may be no formula for creating an olfactory narrative, but Pauline offers a collection of scent diffusers designed to heighten your spatial escapade. From candles and reed diffusers to high-tech diffusion systems, your space becomes part of a new sensory experience.

Each project involves close collaboration with the client (B2C or B2B) and careful attention to the envisioned universe. A signature scent is custom-made and perfected to meet expectations. Scents may also be selected from existing Pauline Rochas perfumes or from her fragrance library.

Attention lies in the detail. From concept to production, packaging, and diffusion, Pauline transforms a space into a true “scentscapade.” An indulgent cocktail inspired by similar olfactory notes can be offered as a final touch.

Scent branding has become an essential tool in advertising and marketing. Its purpose is to connect with the consumer on an emotional level by defining a space through scent.

Pauline's collaborations include Hotel Sacher, Hotel Imperial, Hotel Bristol, Josefine, Guest House, Renaissance Schloss Rosenburg, The Ritz-Carlton, Four Seasons, Vivamayr Medical Health Resort, private architects' homes, Selvaag Art Collection, fashion and multi-brand concept stores, Balenciaga, À Propos, Red Bull, and UGG events, among others.

Our candles are made in France and are available in various sizes. Vegetal, mineral, vegan, and massage waxes are offered. Our reed diffusers are an elegant alternative to candles for those who prefer a flame-free solution, delivering an uninterrupted, around-the-clock fragrance experience.

Our amenity line is environmentally conscious, luxurious, refillable, and compliant with all regulatory requirements, including shampoo, soap, shower gel, and body lotion.

A THOUGHTFUL GUIDE TO SCENTED SPACES

ATTENTION LIES IN THE DETAIL

An indulgent cocktail based on similar notes is the final touch. The concept of defining a space or brand through scent has become more than just another trend. From the classic smell of a new car to the comforting scent of freshly baked bread, scent branding has become an important tool in advertising and marketing. The idea is to connect with the consumer on an emotional level. Research has shown that scent can evoke strong connections to a place. Smell is more powerful than sight or hearing in stirring up emotion.

The sense of smell has a direct line to the primordial reptilian brain where impactful and long-lasting memories in our subconscious are created. The right fragrance will not only capture a client's attention but also seduce the client into spending more time in that space. Memory of the scent will then draw the person unknowingly back. Ultimately the consumer is buying into the experience through scent. The Apple store with its own distinctive scent of apples and mint is one of many top brands who have understood the power of the olfactory experience.

From concept to production, packaging and diffusion, Pauline transforms a space into a “scentscapade.”
